DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-12 and 23-27, drawn to a product.

Group II, claim(s) 28-37, drawn to a method of using the product.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the invention lacks a special technical feature since it was known in the art as evidenced by the references of record.

During a telephone conversation with Mike Hensen on 6/10/2003 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-12 and 23-27. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 28-37 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

> The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-12 and 23-27 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are written in such confusing terms. The claims are claiming a product and should be claimed as such. One or two claims to the product would make more sense with dependent claim therefrom. The current claims are improper in their use of "the use of" and read on product claims. Further, in claims such as claim 6 it is confusing since there is no "primary treatment substance" thus it does not have proper antecedant basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-12 and 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rudov (US 4943433), WO 91/11191 or AU A 81985/87.

The references each teach that rye grass and antibiotics are used together.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-12 and 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rudov (US 4943433), WO 91/11191 or AU A 81985/87.

The references teach what is above. It would have been obvious to use specific amounts of the extract and in the different forms since they are simply the choice of the artisan in an effort to optimize the desired results.
